

COLLEGE of FINE ARTS

Policies and Procedures College Curriculum Committee 2018–2019

The College of Fine Arts Curriculum Committee reviews all new course proposals within the College, changes to existing courses or degree plans, and the Fine Arts portion of the TCU Core. The Committee meets monthly in the fall and spring semesters.

Proposal Procedure

Proposals approved by the faculty of Fine Arts Departments and Schools are then forwarded to the Associate Dean for Undergraduate Studies (william.gibbons@tcu.edu) and to Donna Smolik (d.smolik@tcu.edu). Multiple proposals originating from the same unit should preferably be sent as a single electronic document. Upon receipt, these proposals will be considered at the next scheduled Curriculum Committee meeting; normally, proposals must be received by the beginning of a month to be reviewed at that month's meeting (e.g., Nov. 1 deadline for the November committee meeting.)

Proposals from individual units must include:

- A cover letter in TCU format (see attached sample) listing all included proposals, as appropriate for forwarding to the Undergraduate, Graduate, and/or University Council(s). For simplicity, the cover letter may be sent as a separate file from the proposals.
- Appropriate course proposal forms with all relevant information completed in as much detail as possible.
- Course syllabi (where appropriate), which must be fully completed and in accordance with TCU standards with regards to course information, grading (and explanation of how grades are determined, including attendance and participation), and course policies (including an up-to-date disabilities statement). Note: TCU's standard syllabus template is available at www.elearning.tcu.edu/syllabustemplate.doc.

Proposals considered by the Curriculum Committee receive one of three responses:

- Proposals needing no revision will be forwarded to the appropriate Council(s).
- Proposals needing minor revisions will be tentatively accepted and returned to the originating Department/School for corrections. Corrected proposals are returned to the Associate Dean and Graduate Office along with a signed paper copy. Minor corrections do not require additional discussion at a Curriculum Committee meeting.
- Proposals needing significant revisions will be returned to the originating Department/School. The committee member representing that unit should consult with the chair or other faculty regarding necessary changes; the Associate Dean is also available for consultation. Revised proposals will be reconsidered at the next meeting following their return to the Committee.

Originating units will be notified by the Graduate Office of the status of their proposals in a timely fashion after each Curriculum Committee meeting.

Deadlines and Schedule

Proposals for new courses to be taught in the Spring semester should be submitted by the last week of September in the preceding fall semester. New degree programs or significant degree changes intended to be implemented in a Fall semester should be submitted by Feb. 1 of the preceding spring semester.

University-level meeting schedules are available online at the following locations:

Undergraduate Council: <http://www.ugradcouncil.tcu.edu/>

Graduate Council: <http://gradcouncil.tcu.edu/>

University Council: <http://www.universitycouncil.tcu.edu/>

TCU Core Curriculum Approval

The College Curriculum Committee is also charged with the evaluation of any course seeking to fulfill the Fine Arts (FAR) requirement for the TCU Core. These cases are handled in a similar fashion as other proposals, with successful proposals being forwarded to the TCU Core Curriculum Committee (rather than Undergraduate, Graduate, or University Council) upon approval. A newly created course designed to fulfill FAR Core credit requires two proposals: one for the course itself and one for Core designation. Both proposals may be submitted together.

Note: College of Fine Arts courses seeking to fulfill other Core requirements (Historical Traditions, Global Awareness, etc.) do not normally need to be forwarded to the College Curriculum Committee. Faculty should instead follow the directions on the Core Curriculum website: <http://core.tcu.edu>.

Membership

The College Curriculum Committee membership is comprised of one representative from each of the College's units. Members are appointed to three-year terms.
